New Series by St. Cloud Author Mixes History with Fun

Stark Production, Inc. announces the release of the second and third books in a children's series, titled, Babe the Bear and Cleo the Cat by St. Cloud, Florida author, Paula Stark. The books, released in alphabetical order, will introduce children to significant people from our historical past who helped shape our nation and the world. First, Abraham the Alligator helps children understand the important place in history of Abraham Lincoln. The life and times of the great American president are brought to life in an easy to understand, fun book that children will remember and ask for again and again. Babe the Bear chronicles the early childhood of Babe Ruth and his ultimate claim to baseball fame. Cleo the Cat tells the tale of Cleopatra and her ability to overcome obstacles that were true of her time to become one of the most famous women in history. Parents and teachers will appreciate the important history lessons included in every book.

Author, Paula Stark is a community newspaper publisher in Kissimmee who is very involved in her own community of St. Cloud, Florida. She has two sons and she is also a proud grandmother. She continues to write and believes strongly in early childhood education.

Babe the Bear and Cleo the Cat are now available on I Tunes. To order your soft cover or hardcover book go to www.starkproductioninc.com.

Abraham the Alligator is available in audio book form and may be purchased nationwide from any bookstore, or online through several internet web sites including amazon.com and walmart.com.
